

Public Sector Corruption

Civil Servants, MPs, Bureaucrats & Ministers
Are Public Servants. They Are Meant To Do The Best
For The Community & Should Be Reliable Enough To Carry Out Their Duties In The Interest Of Society
But Why Don't They?

Common Purpose – A method used by government officials to abuse their position of status and undermine the needs of ordinary people like you – is widely used by such officials so that they get away with it, and in cases where they don't, they still come out whiter than white because of Common Purpose Corruption in conjunction with bureaucracy.

Check it out – Google “Common Purpose” to see for yourself or alternatively visit our website at www.dwpcorruption.co.uk

Public Sector Corruption

Civil Servants, MPs, Bureaucrats & Ministers
Are Public Servants. They Are Meant To Do The Best
For The Community & Should Be Reliable Enough To Carry Out Their Duties In The Interest Of Society
But Why Don't They?

Common Purpose – A method used by government officials to abuse their position of status and undermine the needs of ordinary people like you – is widely used by such officials so that they get away with it, and in cases where they don't, they still come out whiter than white because of Common Purpose Corruption in conjunction with bureaucracy.

Check it out – Google “Common Purpose” to see for yourself or alternatively visit our website at

www.dwpcorruption.co.uk

Public Sector Corruption

Civil Servants, MPs, Bureaucrats & Ministers
Are Public Servants. They Are Meant To Do The Best
For The Community & Should Be Reliable Enough To Carry Out Their Duties In The Interest Of Society
But Why Don't They?

Common Purpose – A method used by government officials to abuse their position of status and undermine the needs of ordinary people like you – is widely used by such officials so that they get away with it, and in cases where they don't, they still come out whiter than white because of Common Purpose Corruption in conjunction with bureaucracy.

Check it out – Google “Common Purpose” to see for yourself or alternatively visit our website at

www.dwpcorruption.co.uk

Public Sector Corruption

Civil Servants, MPs, Bureaucrats & Ministers
Are Public Servants. They Are Meant To Do The Best
For The Community & Should Be Reliable Enough To Carry Out Their Duties In The Interest Of Society
But Why Don't They?

Common Purpose – A method used by government officials to abuse their position of status and undermine the needs of ordinary people like you – is widely used by such officials so that they get away with it, and in cases where they don't, they still come out whiter than white because of Common Purpose Corruption in conjunction with bureaucracy.

Check it out – Google “Common Purpose” to see for yourself or alternatively visit our website at

www.dwpcorruption.co.uk

THE TRUTH OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

THEIR PRACTICE IS NOTHING OTHER THAN

Failures Under Conditions Known In National Government

Lowering Achievements Because Of Unfair Regulations

Wrongdoers Acting Not Knowledgeable Enough Ruining
Success

And No Doubt

Bureaucrats Are Such Their Arrogance Really Does Stink

THE TRUTH OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

THEIR PRACTICE IS NOTHING OTHER THAN

Failures Under Conditions Known In National Government

Lowering Achievements Because Of Unfair Regulations

Wrongdoers Acting Not Knowledgeable Enough Ruining
Success

And No Doubt

Bureaucrats Are Such Their Arrogance Really Does Stink

THE TRUTH OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

THEIR PRACTICE IS NOTHING OTHER THAN

Failures Under Conditions Known In National Government

Lowering Achievements Because Of Unfair Regulations

Wrongdoers Acting Not Knowledgeable Enough Ruining
Success

And No Doubt

Bureaucrats Are Such Their Arrogance Really Does Stink

THE TRUTH OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS

THEIR PRACTICE IS NOTHING OTHER THAN

Failures Under Conditions Known In National Government

Lowering Achievements Because Of Unfair Regulations

Wrongdoers Acting Not Knowledgeable Enough Ruining
Success

And No Doubt

Bureaucrats Are Such Their Arrogance Really Does Stink